

Since 1991, UtiliSave has focused on providing utility bill auditing and cost recovery services to organizations in the Metro New York area. UtiliSave's methodology has always been to provide exceptional value when performing auditing services by utilizing the most sophisticated auditing technology in the industry managed by an outstanding team of auditors, engineers and support personnel.

UtiliSave transitioned into a full-service utility management solution firm by listening to our clients and supporting them in meeting their energy, utility and budgetary goals. Value added services such as UtiliSave's in depth auditing reports, penalty fee negotiation practices, energy contract review and analysis, legal action on behalf of a client and ensuring compliance with government and local provider regulations are just some of the reasons why our clients stay with us often for many years.

It is for this reason that Dunn & Bradstreet recently gave UtiliSave an overall rating of 91 out of 100 based on an opinion poll of our clients in addition to UtiliSave's A+ rating with the Better Business Bureau.

At UtiliSave, we are constantly researching ways we can provide additional value to our clients. We are therefore pleased to inform you of our benchmarking compliance services, in regards to Local Law 84 which requires buildings greater than 50,000 sq. ft. to upload their energy consumption into the EPA's portfolio manager tool. If you haven't yet complied with this ordinance, you have until August 1st to do so without penalty.

In addition, UtiliSave can provide you with internal benchmarking reports of your properties. These reports can be customized by property or portfolio to display the energy use, cost, and trend to help you better manage your utility spend and consumption. If you would like information regarding these services, please feel free to give us a call at (718) 382.4500.

Finally, we are pleased to announce that on September 15, 2011, UtiliSave will be hosting the first of many educational seminars to inform our clients regarding the various factors impacting the energy procurement process in the deregulated market. If you would like more information about this seminar or to register please do so by sending an email to info@UtiliSave.com. We look forward to greeting you at the seminar and hearing from you additional ways in which we can support you.
