UtiliSave’s robust auditing software was more than capable of handling this University’s large portfolio, comprised of over 150 buildings and over 400 individual accounts. We performed periodic audits several times each year, and our auditing software continuously ran tests and algorithms that would prove to identify many savings opportunities over the years.

These opportunities for savings included overlapping billing, incorrect consumption and/or demand, erroneous billing surcharges, erroneous billing codes embedded in the utilities’ billing system, and various metering problems. Combined, the opportunities UtiliSave identified resulted in millions of dollars in savings. Our technical team of auditors and tariff specialists identified exemptions, allowances, special water conservation programs, and more beneficial rating methodologies to secure hundreds of thousands of dollars in additional savings. Of particular note in this case is our R&D team, whose work identified an exemption for this client based on their non-profit activity across multiple industries.

As a complementary bonus to our periodic physical inspections of the meters for their hundreds of utility accounts, our Auditing team guided the Institution’s Facility Management team in addressing non-functioning meters and a variety of other compliance issues we discovered. Our efforts would prove to ensure the Client remained in compliance with the local utility’s strict rules and regulations and would prevent any future penalties, surcharges, or other violations.
